Your banner makes a powerful statement that you share the Y's mission to give all families—children, teens, adults, and seniors—access to vital Y programs that may be beyond their means. Growing interest in the Y means growing visibility for your banner and reflects a growing need for the financial assistance your banner-level contribution helps provide.

Graphic requirements:

- Logos should have resolution of no less than 300dpi
- Files should be .jpg, .png or .pdf and can be sent to mcyr@clcymca.org.

Take a look at how one business is supporting the CLC YMCA.

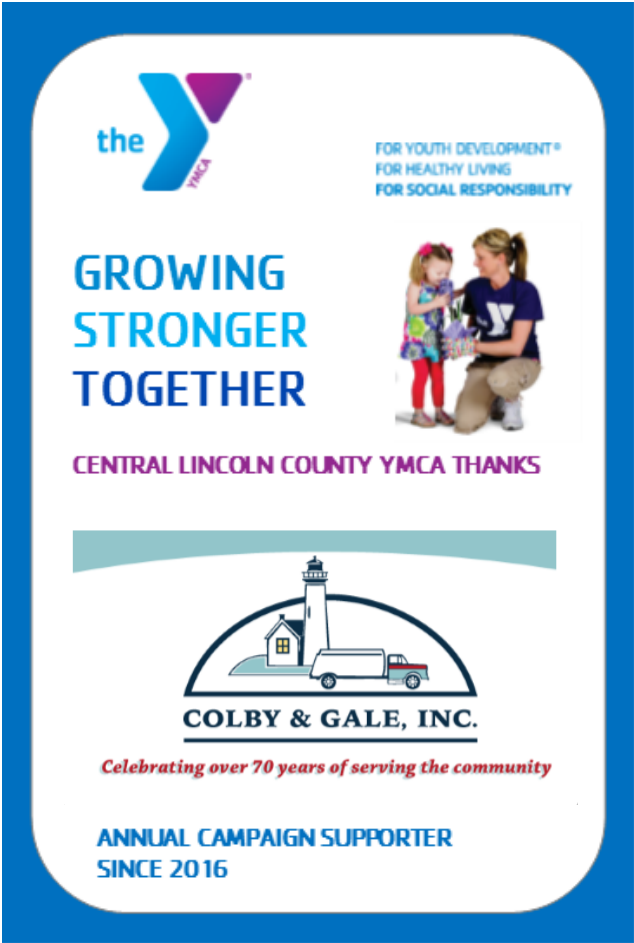

It is such a privilege and an honor to facilitate a connection that leads to a donation from a local business. We encourage staff to mentor our youth and teens in ways that they may not have learned otherwise.

During the holiday season, Robert Clifford from Colby & Gale, stopped by Meagan's office asking if anything more was needed for our youth & teen program. Firmly believing in allowing the teens to have their room and programs, with ideas of their own, I met with Brittnei and other teens and asked what they would like to see in the room to make it more inviting and comfortable to come to.

After meeting with Robert at Colby & Gale and receiving a generous donation to purchase the items the teens listed, I asked Brittnei if she would like to order the items. Taylor stopped by my office after working out and saw Brittnei grappling with how to order items online and how to spend the money the right way. I invited Taylor to come along side Brittnei to show her how to spend the money according to how we promised Robert we would. The two ladies took over my computer and office and went shopping. It warmed my heart to know that we provided Brittnei with such a great learning opportunity.

Through being a Y employee, Taylor also found a way to learn how to mentor those who look up to her in a different way than them just witnessing her skills on the basketball court.
